CABLE SHIP MACKAY-BENNETT ARRIVES AT HALIFAX AMID TOLLING BELLS AND FLAGS AT HALF MAST.

BURDEN IS UNLOADED

One Hundred and Ninety Bodies Taken From Vessel—108 Unidentified Buried at Sea—Col. Astor's Body Identified.

Halifax, Nova Scotia, April 30.—While the city church bells tolled and the British flags fluttered at half mast the cable ship Mackay-Bennett steamed slowly into the Halifax harbor this morning bearing the dead picked up at the scene of the disaster to the White Star liner Titanic.

She reached dock in the navy yard shortly after nine-thirty o'clock. As soon as the ship was sighted from the harbor the ten canvas curtains shrouding the dead were lowered and the embalmers' tents on the pier were lowered and twenty sailors from the Canadian cruiser Nabie, in the yard for repairs, lined up as a guard. A patrol boat was stationed in front of the pier to prevent any docking in the vicinity.

Vessel Goes Down at Entrance to Smyrna Harbor With Great Loss of Life.

Smyrna, April 30.—The steamer Texas belonging to the Archipelago-American Steamship Co., struck a mine at the entrance to Smyrna harbor and was sunk. Seventy persons on board were drowned.

The Texas was flying the Turkish flag and was engaged in carrying mails from Constantinople to the Levant. It was first stated that the Texas was an American vessel, the error arising from the fact that she is part of the fleet of a local concern trading under the name of the Archipelago-American Steamship company.

At the time of the anti-Greek boycott the fleet to which the Texas belonged and which consisted of eight vessels bearing the names of American states, was authorized to fly the U. S. flag, by the U. S. consul general here, because the company was largely controlled by American interests.

Young Man Found Dead in Bed With Two Bullet Wounds—Clothing on Fire When Found.

Chicago, April 30.—With two bullet wounds in his body, Peter Musso, aged twenty-nine, was found dead in a burning bed in a room on the north side this morning. Neighbors heard shots in the apartments several hours before the body was discovered. Musso's body was found in bed. It is believed he was shot while asleep, and that his assailant set fire to the bed to hide evidence of the crime. A revolver with three empty bullets was found in an adjoining room. A hat and shirt believed to have been left by the assailant were the only clues found. Musso's wife and child could not be found when the body was discovered.

LAW-MAKERS EXCHANGE GREETINGS BEFORE CALLED TO ORDER THIS AFTERNOON AT THREE O'CLOCK.

INCOME TAX ACT HIT?

Joint Resolution Asking Governor to Call Second Session to Consider Repeal of Act to Be Introduced.

Special to the Gazette.

Madison, Wis., April 30.—For an hour before the convening of the Wisconsin legislature, in special session at three o'clock this afternoon, the two chambers had every appearance of a soldiers' reunion, with the members exchanging greetings. Apparently it was a slow process to get down to the business of the legislative grind. Promptly at the hour set, however, Chief Clerk C. E. Shaffer called the assembly to order, and the same procedure was followed in the senate by Chief Clerk F. M. Wylie, who came from his Washington position to be at his post.

In the assembly the invocation was delivered by Rev. George E. Hunt of this city, Presbyterian pastor. Then followed the preliminaries to effect a permanent organization.

It is expected that Gov. F. B. McGovern will read his message in person tonight at a joint session of both houses.

One of the biggest fights of the short session promises to develop on the bill for state exploitation of the rough fish industry, a bill for which came into the legislature this afternoon.

Second Session Proposed.

A joint resolution calling upon Gov. McGovern to call a second special session of the legislature to consider the repeal of the income tax law, will be introduced at the opening of the extra session this afternoon by Senator H. H. Bodenstab and Assemblyman Vockey, both of Milwaukee.

It is understood the request proposes that the new session be called immediately at the close of the first session so that only a few minutes, or at most a few hours, will intervene, and time will thus be conserved. The proposal is not given serious consideration by men who assume to know the governor's mind.

Non-Partisan Bills.

That no serious effort to pass the non-partisan county bill will be made at this session is the opinion of Assemblyman Eric S. Storr of Milwaukee, who will introduce both the city and county bills. He said the subject is clothed in too much doubt and is too unfamiliar to too many of the members to receive the careful consideration its importance deserves.

Taft Returns to Washington and Prepares for Trip to Georgia—Colonel in New York on Way Home.

Washington, April 30.—President Taft returned to Washington from his campaign trip to Massachusetts shortly before ten today. His stay in the capital will be brief, however, as he is scheduled for Savannah, Ga., late this afternoon. The President will also visit Augusta, Ga., and will attend memorial services for his late aide Major Archibald Hutton.

President Taft's five hours in Washington were devoted mainly to concluding executive business and to fulfilling a luncheon engagement with a party of distinguished Frenchmen who are here in connection with the gift of the Rodin statue.

Colonel in New York.

New York, April 30.—Colonel Roosevelt reached here this morning from his campaign in the Massachusetts primary and spent the early part of the day at his office. This afternoon he planned to go to his home at Oyster Bay.

Col. Roosevelt again contradicted President Taft in a statement today regarding the so-called Harvester trust case. Col. Roosevelt said: "I was positive that Harvester trust matter had been discussed in full at least once at a cabinet meeting after Mr. Taft returned. Mr. Bonaparte now sends the following telegram: 'Baltimore, April 30.—Date of cabinet meeting when Harvester trust case was discussed either 17 or 21 January, 1908. Probably former. Chas. Bonaparte.' The action of Mr. Taft in this case is not compatible with even the feeblest kind of good intentions."

Charge is Made to Committee Today That White Star Company Knew of Disaster Twelve Hours Before Public.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—The senate investigation into the wreck of the Titanic entered its final stages today. J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the International Mercantile Marine, owners of the lost liner, was recalled to the witness stand and put through a last searching examination by Senator Smith.

Mr. Ismay indignantly denied that he or any representative of his company had attempted to renege the Titanic between the time she went down and the hour the real news of the disaster became public.

He asserted that a wireless message which he directed to Vice President Franklin from the Carpathia, Monday morning, April 15, did not reach that official until Wednesday. Mr. Ismay said the Titanic was not a "speed boat," but had been constructed under orders given by him, to make her the biggest and best equipped vessel afloat. No cost limit had been set.

A charge was made to the committee today that the White Star line officials had positive news of the disaster between the hours of seven and eight o'clock on the morning following the accident, but suppressed the news until twelve hours later.

The information was given by E. J. Dunn, a New York business man who said he in turn got his information in New York from the son of a Western Union employee. He refused to give his informant's name and promptly was given over to the secretaries.

In spite of the remainder of the morning using the long distance telephone to New York in an effort to be absolved from his pledge of secrecy.

Vice President Franklin of the White Star line suggested that the committee call on the telegraph company for the message and said he wanted the committee to have every wireless message, cablegram or telegram bearing on the disaster.

"We want this matter sifted to the bottom," he said.

Under a proceeding in admiralty court here today, J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the International Mercantile Marine, was summoned to appear this afternoon before a commissioner to give testimony to be used in a suit of Mrs. Louisa Robb of New York against the White Star line. Mrs. Robb's husband, George Robb, was lost in the Titanic disaster. Subpoenas also were issued by the admiralty court for the surviving officers of the Titanic.

Mr. Ismay was questioned as to the speed of the Titanic on the trip to Southampton. He said he heard no mention on any of the stand that he would make twenty-five knots an hour. He said he thought the revolution had been worked up to seventy-five knots and was not sure. "The engines were built for seventy-eight revolutions," he said.

He denied having talked with Captain Smith about the speed. Questioned about Captain Smith he said the Captain had had no accidents until last year when the Olympic collided with the British cruiser Hawke. He thought the question of life-saving appliances would be carefully gone into to determine just what should be done and had already given instructions that none of the ships of his line should have port without sufficient life boats to care for all the passengers.

Anti Organization Faction of Republicans Hope to Put William Finn in His Place.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 30.—Republican leaders of Pennsylvania arrived on every train today in anticipation of the state convention which is to meet in the Majestic Theater in this city tomorrow. There will be nominated at this convention a candidate for Auditor General, State Treasurer and four Congressmen-at-large. The convention will also elect twelve delegates and twelve alternates-at-large to the national convention at Chicago.

Although this work will be merely perfunctory, since the nominations and selections have been made in advance, the convention nevertheless promises to be of great importance to the future of the Republican party in Pennsylvania. The Finn-Van Valkenburg combine, which exposed the cause of Roosevelt, intends to follow up the notable victory scored in the recent primaries by capturing the state convention and making their control of the party unquestioned.

The ultimate aim of the anti-Organization faction is believed to be to capture the seat of United States Senator Boies Penrose, for former State Senator William Finn of Pittsburgh, who aspires to be the Republican leader of the state and who, thru the rout of the Penrose machine in the recent primaries, appears to be in a fair way to realize his ambition. While the term of Senator Penrose does not expire until 1915, the coming campaign will be of great importance to the Finn plans as half the state senators to be elected next fall are to vote on Senator Penrose's successor.

DEATH SHIP IN PORT

Her own flag at half mast, the Death Ship docked slowly. Her crew manned the rails with bowed heads and on the outer deck were stacked the bodies of the dead.

Members of the crew, talking over the side, said that every body picked up had been in a life boat and that there were no bullet holes in any. Many of the unclaimed dead lay on the forward deck covered with tarpaulins. Col. John Jacob Astor's body, it was said, was somewhere in the pile of rough coffins in the stern.

White Star line officials had boarded the ship down the harbor and they superintended the arrangements for the docking.

All told, there were not more than half a dozen mourners, or their representatives at the pier, for they dreaded the sight and preferred to await the work of identifying the bodies at the morgue. The first body removed was that of a seaman.

It was announced that the total number of bodies on board was one hundred and ninety, of that it had been necessary to bury no less than one hundred and fifteen at sea. Among those brought to port are the bodies of two women.

ASTOR'S BODY IDENTIFIED

After a conference with the commandant of the Mackay-Bennett, Captain Roberts announced that there was no doubt of the identification of Col. Astor's body.

In the pocket $2,500 cash had been found and he wore a belt with a gold buckle.

The body identified as that of Mr. Widener was buried at sea.

At eleven o'clock the work of removing the dead from the forward deck had not been completed. None of the coffins had been touched.

Colonel Astor's body was brought off the ship shortly before noon and taken with others to the morgue. Captain R. H. Lander then received interviewers on board and described the work of the Mackay-Bennett at sea.

300 BODIES FOUND

The total number of bodies found, he said, was three hundred and six. Of these, one hundred and six, most of them members of the Titanic crew and unidentified, were consigned to the sea and the remaining one hundred and ninety brought to Halifax.

Only eighteen bodies of women were found afloat.

The exact number of identified among the one hundred and ninety brought here, Captain Lander preferred to leave to an official statement to be issued by the White Star authorities.

The Captain told of the finding of the body thought to be that of Mr. Widener which was buried at sea. George Widener talked with the Captain today and feels sure it was the body of Edward Keating, Mr. Widener's valet.

There were letters in the pocket addressed to George H. Widener, but the initials on an overcoat worn "E. K." and the quality of the underclothing was not similar to that Mr. Widener wore.

METHOD OF RESCUE

Relief of the Titanic dotted the sea over an area of thirty square miles. Captain Lander said. Doors, windows, and chairs by the scene were found floating, but to none of them were bodies hauled.

In several instances there were groups of floating bodies, numbering fifty or more, but none were hauled together. Col. Astor was found standing almost erect in his life belt.

Small boats were lowered by the Mackay-Bennett whenever a group of bodies was sighted and into these the dead were piled three or four at a time, hauled on board the cable ship, each was numbered with a large canvas tag and valuables and papers placed in a canvas sack similarly numbered.

Canon K. O. Hind of All Saints' cathedral here, conducted the services in connection with the burial at sea. On three separate occasions services were held.

DETECTIVES IN AUTO IN RACE WITH ELEVATED CAR

Chicago, April 30.—Detectives in an auto were engaged in an exciting race for three miles with an elevated train on the north side today in an effort to capture a burglar who had entered the home of Walter Richmond, 1207 Michigan avenue. When they caught up with the train and a search of the cars was made the burglar could not be found.

FLOODS AGAIN RISE AND ENDANGER LIVES

High Water Covered Flooded Areas in Many Places and More Property is Destroyed.

Special to the Gazette.

Toledo, La., April 30.—Narratives of destruction and distress reached Toledo today from the flooded country to the north. Telegraph stations in the inundated territory report that hundreds of families are homeless as every farm and plantation in the upper Toledo district is under water. Conditions in Catahoula parish were reported desperate. Only about ten per cent of the total area is above water. Thirty families are reported marooned and destitute thirty miles below Metairie.

An attempt will be made to get supplies to them today. Telegraph offices at Metairie, Jeffers, Fishpond and Black Hawk, on the Texas and Pacific railway went out of commission today. Before leaving, the operator at Metairie reported, "Water up to my waistment. Have to quit. On to the hills."

MISSISSIPPI AGAIN RISES

Calto, Ill., April 30.—The Mississippi river has again passed the flood stage at this point and the water is flowing over lowlands which only last week shed the waters of the most disastrous flood within local memory.

The draining district north of the city is under four feet of water. The river gauge registered 45.5 feet and is expected to record forty-eight feet before the present rise commences to subside.

ANGER FROM MISSOURI

Hermann, Mo., reported the Missouri stationery this morning after a rise of three feet in twenty-four hours. Below the Osage and Gasconade rivers it is predicted the Missouri will exceed the flood stage. Reports from Alton, Ill., and other points above St. Louis today, said the river was rising and that lowlands inundated by the high water of last month again are being flooded.

HIGH WATER MARK PASSED

St. Louis, April 30.—The Mississippi river passed the danger mark at this point this morning, the gauge registering 39.3 feet, a rise of 8 of a foot since last night and 22 feet in twenty-four hours. The rise has been caused by heavy rains in Missouri and unless rain falls along the Ohio it is expected to be local.

Lincoln, Neb., April 30.—Albert Prince, a negro, was found guilty of murder in the first degree by the jury which reported at nine o'clock this morning. The jury deliberated six hours before reaching a decision shortly before midnight. Prince stabbed Deputy Warden Albert Davis at the state penitentiary February 11.

STATE GOVERNMENT IS LAUDED BY HOWE

Well Known Political Writer in New York Says Wisconsin is Most Efficient Commonwealth.

Madison, Wis., April 30.—That the work of state government can no longer be considered "as a political uniformity" is the opinion of a book just issued by Frederick C. Howe entitled "Wisconsin—an Experiment in Democracy." Howe is an economist and political writer who has been making a study of conditions in this state for the past three years.

"Wisconsin has raised the state from the low estate into which it had fallen and converted it into a vital political agency," says the author. "Until recently, he adds, the state was 'probably our most conspicuous political failure.' It had not awakened the interest of reformers as had the city, and that it had not aroused

TRUCE DECLARED IN ZION TOBACCO WAR

Quiet Followed Yesterday's Rioting Between Tobacco "Using" Employees and Voliva's Followers.

Special to the Gazette.

Chicago, April 30.—Truce was declared in Zion City tobacco war today after a recurrence of the rioting of yesterday, when the adherents of Wilbur Glen Voliva, overseer of Zion, were routed by the tobacco using employees of a manufacturing concern.

Under Voliva's rule the city was successfully governed. Recently a factory was leased to an electrical concern and the employees of the factory paid no attention to the "No Tobacco" regulations of Zion City. Bill board statements commenting strongly on the mental and moral condition of tobacco users, were read and prayer meetings for the conversion of the "users" excited the factory folk to acts of retaliation.

Yesterday they stormed an open air prayer meeting and heads were bruised and clothes torn. Still greater violence was threatened today and Mayor Butler was considering an appeal for state troops when the truce was declared. Voliva contends the lease of the factory site is subject to the rule against tobacco.

THIS IS "MOVING TIME" FOR EVERY CITY IN AMERICA

By J. R. HAMILTON.
Former Advertising Manager
Wanamaker's, Philadelphia.

In the larger, newer, home-less cities, one-seventh of the entire population moves every year. In the older cities of established homes, the number is about one-twelfth; while even in the small centers, at least one-fifth of the people change their abode with the coming of each spring.

The United States is migratory to its very heart. The American Anthem has been orchestrated to the squeaking of axles; the engine-pet beater is our rallying drum, while our national slogan is "Giddap."

All the world loves a mover, and the most of the world gets the better of him.

If ever you hope to gain the confidence of your own pocket-book you must be wary now.

Wall paper, curtains, rugs, furniture must all be bought again in some measure. Cleaners, movers, painters and electricians must all be figured on. And if you own the place it is worse than if you rented it.

Now the question is how to accomplish things with the lowest common denominator of expense.

And the answer is, through the advertising news as it appears in this paper day by day.

All those merchants and workmen who are prepared to help you most are advertising here right now. They are telling you about the service they are able to render. They are quoting you prices on that service. They are making their bid for your attention with the best that they have and offering you that best at the lowest prices they can afford. They would be foolish to do otherwise; for through these columns they know you will take the measure of their capacity. Here is where you judge of what they can do and of how much service they can be to you.

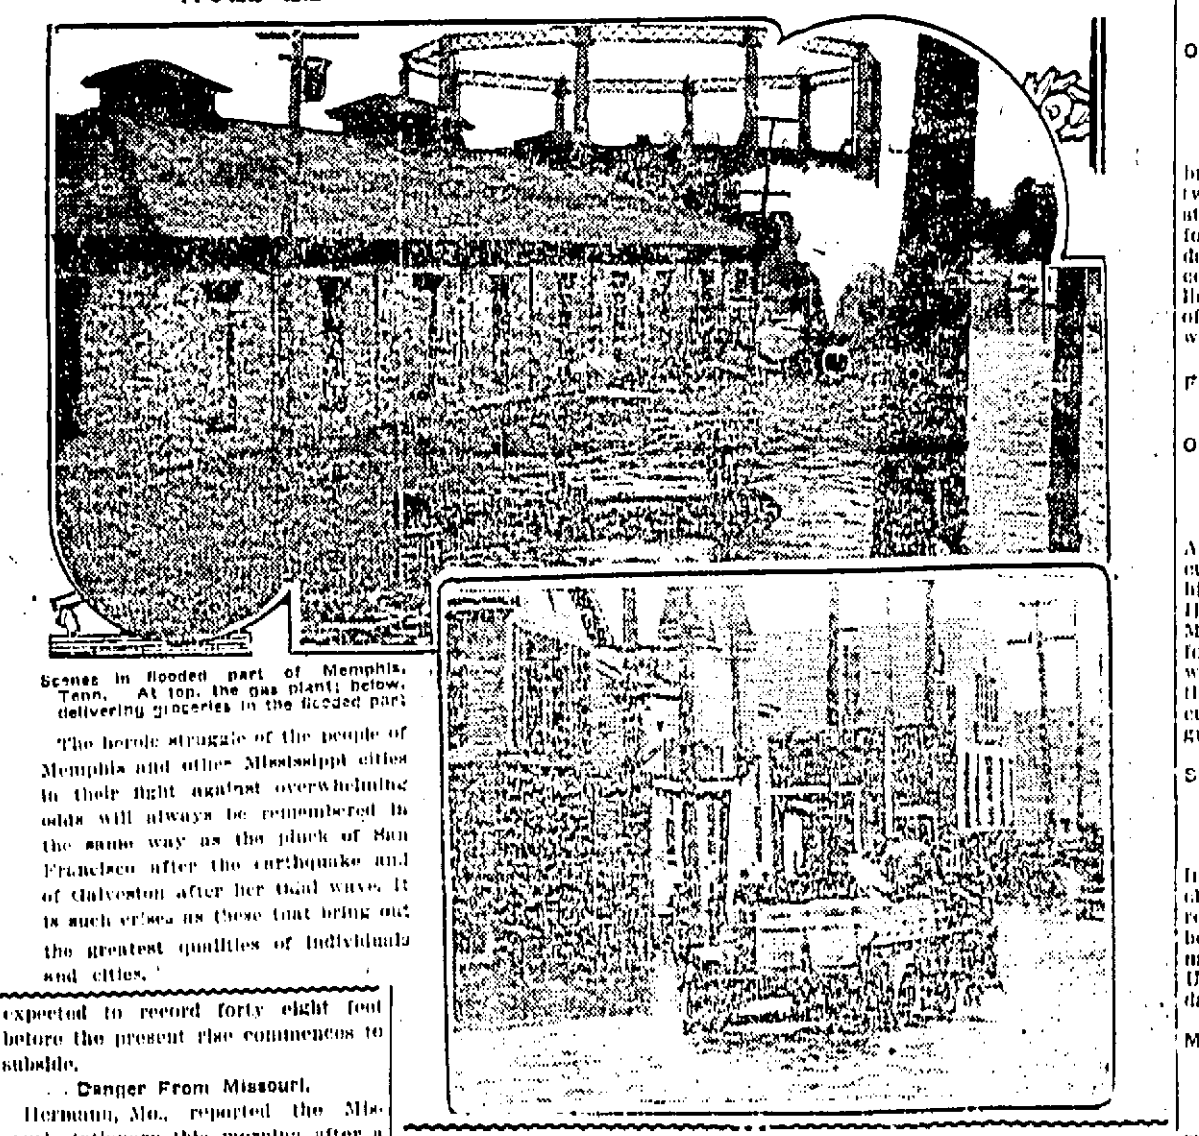

Those who do not advertise here have nothing to lose. They have not placed themselves on record. They are the ones who tell you just to "leave the price to them." And won't you "leave the price to them" if you listen to their siren call.

The men who advertise are the men to follow; for they are the men who lead. They must be the shrewdest buyers, for they must sell at the lowest price. They are the value-makers because they are the volume-makers.

Turn to the advertising pages now and see what they have to say. Read every line of their publicity carefully. They are the ones who will save you time and money and the worry of doubt.

For advertising is the greatest incentive to commercial integrity.

CLEAN-UP OF CITY TO BEGIN TOMORROW

Next Three Days Will be Devoted to Hauling Away Accumulation of Rubbish in Alleys and Back Yards.

Tomorrow, Thursday and the next day, May 1, 2, and 3, Janesville will take a long step toward the goal of "Spotless Town." These three days, designated by the proclamation of Mayor James F. Hall as "Clean-up," "Fire Prevention," and "Arbor" days will be devoted to collecting and hauling away the rubbish, ashes, garbage, tin cans, and all other unsightly and unsightly material that has accumulated during the winter, and some of it for a much longer period. It is a movement in which every citizen of Janesville should have an active interest, appealing as it does to the motives of civic pride, solicitude for the public health, and the desire for clean and attractive surroundings. The work, though not undertaken with the approval of all the assistance it can give. Health Officer Dr. M. A. Cunningham took the initial steps toward the organization of a working force and assumed general supervision and the Anti-Tuberculosis Association has placed superintendents with a corps of assistants at work in every ward. Associated with them have been the Civic Improvement Committee of the Women's Clubs of Janesville and the Commercial Club.

The sale of tickets conducted by the Association to raise funds for the payment of the teamsters engaged will be continued until every home in the city has been visited. The price of the ticket, twenty-five cents, makes it possible for practically every tenant or property owner to purchase one, and those with large quantities of material to be hauled away should purchase more.

The Commercial Club engaged a solicitor yesterday to secure contributions from businessmen to defray the expenses of the clean-up days. The business premises are those most familiar to strangers and regular visitors in the city and the Club believes that every business man should show his interest in the good name of the city by a generous contribution.

A score or more of teams will report for work at seven o'clock tomorrow morning at the Corn Exchange where they will be given instructions as to where they are to work. After they have been assigned to the different wards they will be under the immediate direction of the clean-up superintendents who will keep in close touch with the situation through their corps of assistants. These will guide the teamsters to where the refuse has been piled and see that no place is overlooked.

The pictures shown on this page are untidy corners and alleys in the heart of the city, some of the eye sores which should be erased tomorrow.

SEWER CONNECTIONS IN ON ONE SIDE OF BLOCK

Will Permit Starting Pavement Work on North Main Street—Many Others to Be Made.

Sewer and other service connections have now been made on the west side of North Main street between Milwaukee street and North First street, which permit Gund and Graham, the contractors, to begin work preparing the sub-grade for the brick pavement on that portion of the street. Nine connections were put in on that side of the block and five will be installed on the other side. In the block between First and Second streets seven or eight will be put in on the west side and two on the east. Four or five different buildings on the east side of the block between Milwaukee and First streets have been discharging into one sewer that ran directly into the river. It is understood that this will be connected with the main sewer. One circumstance which will facilitate rapid and economical work on North Main street is that brick need not be hauled for more than a block, the end of a sidetrack being but one block from Milwaukee street. From that point west the bricks can be loaded directly from the cars into the street.

Keep the Children's Bowels Clean Now

IF TONGUE IS COATED, STOMACH SOUR, BREATH FEVERISH, BOWELS CLOGGED, GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS."

Children dearly love to take delicate "Syrup of Figs" and nothing else cleans and regulates their tender little stomachs, liver and bowels so promptly and thoroughly.

Children get bilious and constipated just like grown-ups. Then they get sick, the tongue is coated, stomach sour, breath bad; they don't eat or rest well; they become feverish, cross, irritable and don't want to play. Listen mothers—for your child's sake don't force the little one to swallow nauseating castor oil, violent cathartics or harsh irritants like Cathartic pills. A teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs will have your child smiling and happy again in just a few hours. Syrup of Figs will gently clean, sweeten and regulate the stomach, soothe the liver and move on and out of the bowels all the constipated matter, the sour bile, the foul, clogged-up waste and poisons, without causing cramps or griping.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging or injuring your children. Being composed entirely of natural, safe, and aromatic it cannot be harmful. Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package name "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna" prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious, lasting, genuine old, reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

DESCRIBES VISIT IN THE SOUTHLAND

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hall Return From Extended Trip Through Southern United States and Central America.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hall have returned from an extended trip through the south including short stops at New Orleans and Panama. They left here eight weeks ago and went south to New Orleans where they spent two weeks visiting the old city. From there they went to Panama and spent several days visiting the canal and taking in the many interesting sights around that part of the peninsula. In speaking of the canal, Mr. Hall told of the remarkable beautiful conditions which exist in that territory, the streets being paved, an excellent water supply being furnished and the yards kept cleaned up much better than in the average city in the United States.

He describes the trip through the southern part of the trip, an excursion train passing through the entire continent so that it can be easily viewed by tourists. The mammoth locks with their six hundred ton gates and the dams which make lakes of small rivers all proved to be of a most interesting character.

After leaving Panama Mr. and Mrs. Hall came through Florida and then traveled up the eastern coast stopping at the larger cities for short visits. They then stopped at Philadelphia and New York as well as many of the smaller cities of interest and came west from there. Altogether they covered a greater part of the eastern half of the United States and enjoyed a most pleasant trip.

CHINESE BALL TEAM PLAYS BELOIT NINE

Famous Nine From College of Hawaii
Plays College Team Thursday Afternoon.

[Special to the Gazette.]
Beloit, April 29.—The famous Chinese baseball team, from the college of Hawaii, which is being managed by Robert Yip, a brother of the president of China, will meet the Beloit college team in Beloit on Thursday, May 2. Yip, the Chinese pitcher, is a marvel, having in his record a seven inning game in which no hits were made, no errors, and no men on bases. The Beloit battery is also exceptionally strong this year, so a strong game may be expected.
The foreigners come to Beloit with a fine record. They have defeated all of the Honolulu teams in Hawaii, as well as the Waseda Japs, who played the college team last year. They have defeated the Brigham Young and the Utah university teams, and also Nebraska Wesleyan and the fast semi-pro team in Sacramento, Cal. The Chinese recently held the Wisconsin nine, at present the leaders in the Big Nine Conference, to an 8 to 7 score in a fast ten inning game.

COOMBS MAY BE OUT OF GAME FOR MONTHS

Jack Coombs, one of the world's champion star pitchers, is laid up with a strained side and may not be in the game for months. His recent injury is the same as the one which caused his retirement during the fifth game of the world's series at New York last fall and prevented the Athletics from winning that series in five games.
An operation may be necessary to put Coombs right again. He was in splendid form this spring and was expected to be the Athletics' mainstay in the box until hot weather set in.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

MOLDING THE PUTTY.
Take care lest you handicap your son. There's a man inside of him—if you can get the man out of him. And manhood is made by putting flesh and blood up against the sharp corners of life.

Cruel? It is effective.
Is it your aim to shield your boy from the hardships you know when you were a boy? That is a natural desire, but in carrying it out you may coddle your boy and weaken his character.

For instance:
You let the chap sleep late while his mother keeps the breakfast warm for him, and he comes downstairs to find fault with his food. Look out! You are pampering that boy. You are padding things to give him an easy impact.

Which may be fatherly.
But very unwise.
Because you are taking away his chance to become a man. You let him spend money he does not earn. You make the going easy instead of hard. He ought to strive against odds. He ought to work to win.

How shall he learn to swim without going into the water?
You want to save him from suffering, but suffering perfects character.
If your boy is to know the worth of a dollar he must earn it; if he is to know the thrill of success he must win it.

Hard lines?
Even so. It is hard lines for you, my friend, and for me, and for all of us, but it is the way by which we get after and forcefulness.
The world will give no man place unless he climbs up to get it. Would you keep your boy from climbing, perforce, because he must blister his hands on the rungs of the ladder?

Please remember—
Your boy is made of the same sort of putty you are made of. You were molded into what success you have achieved while the putty was soft.
When the putty of which your boy is made begins to harden it is too late to try to mold it.

Poetical Note.
The Hollman says there is no money in poetry. Now, if this is true, and most poets say that it is, why doesn't the Hollman start a new era in poetry in its own columns, which might properly be headed, "The Era of Money in Poetry."

A Waning Love.
Husband (coming home late and finding wife asleep)—Think all she cares for, doesn't think it worth while to say "wake up" call me a beast.—Lilo.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By Roy K. Moulton.

On the Nile.
I'd like to loaf around awhile
Upon the ancient river Nile,
And hunt the graceful crocodile
Like famous tourists do.
The pyramids I'd like to see
The mummies, too, appeal to me.
I'd like to find old Ptolemy,
And get an interview.

I'd like to converse with that minx,
That Gibson girl they called the Sphinx.
And try to woe some solid links
Between the past and now.
She is the only woman who
Can keep her lips sealed, tightly, too.
A fact we must allow.

I'd like to ask some question that
Would throw light on her habits.
Did Cleopatra wear a rat
And chew her gum at the show?
Were fourteen bonnets then the style
Along the placid river Nile?
Did hapless pharaohs rank and file
As they passed to and fro?

Did suffragette rise in that day,
And heave their bricks of ancient clay?
Did common people have to pay
Three pence for their meat?
Were K & B practicing plays?
Was Lilian Russell then the craze?
Was Goodwin seeking fiancées?
Were chorus girls discreet?

Was Kaiser Wilhelm talking flight?
Did frightened folks stay up all night
To watch for comets in their flight?
Did old Wurzburger flow?
If her determination slips,
And Mrs. Sphinx unseals her lips
She may give us some good straight tips
On things we'd like to know.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury

Mercury will surely destroy the system of small and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's

Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's

ANTICIPATED ARREST; TRIED TO CUT THROAT

John Mosher Made Unsuccessful Attempt to Take Life This Morning—Gets Twenty Days in Jail.

John Mosher, a police court frequenter for many years past attempted to commit suicide this morning by cutting his throat with a jackknife. He failed in his purpose, the knife being too dull and his manipulation of it too awkward, and all he succeeded in doing was to make a jagged and painful flesh wound. Policeman Fenning found Mosher near the water tank in the railway yards with the knife still in his hands. On being asked the reason for his act he replied that he was about to be arrested and that he was going to beat them if he could. Mosher pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy and was sentenced to twenty-days imprisonment in the county jail. He is in very poor condition as the result of his long continued drinking.

Joe Rickert, who claims Chelminati as his home, plead guilty to a charge of intoxication and in lieu of the fine he could not pay was given eight days in jail. Rickert, when arrested had in his possession a wrench and several new blouses. He had sold one wrench worth about $2. to a garage employee for 25 cents. On being questioned where he got possession of this property he said he had found it in a dump in Madison, "planted" in a sack. He brought it with him because he thought he could sell it. Rickert was given the same sentence as Rickert and for a similar charge. He was arrested on Western Avenue last evening while riding out of town with a farmer. The farmer's wagon tipped over, one of the wheels coming off. The driver claimed he was not intoxicated and was let go and called this morning to get the sullied groceries which the police took in charge.

COMMISSION ISSUES MILWAUKEE STREET CAR CASE REPORTS

COMMISSION ISSUES—
Industrial Commission Issues Findings
on Case—Milwaukee Car Men
Have Poorer Conditions
Than Other Cities.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 30.—Conflicting itself to a bare statement of facts and conclusions, after four months of investigation, the Industrial Commission today issued its findings in the Milwaukee street car case. The conclusions are the fruit of a searching and scientific inquiry instituted as the result of a formal petition by the Milwaukee Division of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Employees of America for an adjustment of their differences with the T. M. E. R. & L. Co.

Milwaukee street car employees, according to the industrial commission's findings are subjected to more trying conditions of labor than their brothers in Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis and St. Paul. In Milwaukee their rate of pay, for instance, ranges from 22 cents an hour the first year to 26 cents an hour the sixth year and thereafter. This is less than the rates paid in Cleveland, Chicago and Detroit. The commission says, however, "Milwaukee stands a little lower than midway between the low and the high rates paid in the principal western cities."

It appears from the commission's comparisons that the schedules of regular and extra runs are not as nicely fixed as those in other cities. The actual platform only for the spread of hours for instance, is lower than in Detroit or Cleveland. The commission finds also that few employees receive as much as one day off a week and strongly recommends that this matter be adjusted.

Below are the conclusions as announced in the 24 page report of the industrial commission's investigation: "Public Service Corporations."

"In giving the commission authority to make investigations of this character, the legislature undoubtedly intended to have the public utility industry brought under the same public supervision which is now exercised over the public utility industry. The commission is of the opinion that labor conditions should be reasonably satisfactory under public service corporations. The standard should be high enough to satisfy enlightened public opinion. The public have to pay a rate sufficient to guarantee the public utility a fair return on the capital invested."

"Railroad Commission."

"In fixing rates for public utilities, we are assured that the railroad commission include in the operating expense accounts a reasonable wage based on reasonable hours of service. The public desires effective service, and this includes safety, health and comfort of employees. This being true so long as the burden of maintaining such conditions is shifted to the public, no utility should hesitate to make its labor conditions fair and reasonable."

"Unions."

"This commission has no desire to consider questions of policy adopted by the company so long as the policy of the company assures to the employees reasonable labor conditions. In passing we may say that some method whereby employees may present their collective grievances ought to be found by the company employing such a large number of men. It is a matter of common knowledge that the individual employee in such a company cannot secure a fair hearing. He cannot deal with the company on anything like even terms. He can only submit to direction right or wrong."

"When employees have no system whereby their wrongs may be collectively presented, the tyranny of the petty official develops. Such abuses are illustrated by the acts of officers of the company in forcibly taking badges from employees. Violence of this character begets violence. In turn and leads to a disrespect for law and order."

"The system of spying on employees when off duty, is repulsive to our ideas of citizenship. A company properly managed will not maintain such a system for long."

"A sick benefit scheme, an old age or service pension system, the welfare plans of the company, all being developed, are attempts on the part of the company to improve conditions. These plans have not been under way long enough to determine their measure of success. They should be promotive of better relations between employer and employee."

"Wages and Hours."

"On account of the steady employment through the year the total earnings of street railway employees compare favorably with those of other occupations. This advantage, however, is sacrificed by the excessively long hours out of the twenty four per day that men are required to be at work or on hand."

"Whether men are compelled by the company or by their own necessities or ambition to work continuously without a day off for several months, can make but little difference from the standpoint of public welfare. A wholesale public opinion condemns such conditions and the public has generally reached the conclusion that at least one day in seven should be guaranteed for rest, recuperation and the duties of society. When this continuous work is combined with a daily platform duty exceeding 10 hours in three fourths of the cases for regular men, the strain is too great."

"A provision increasing the number of days off with a maximum duty of 10 hours, would require an increased force of men. This would require an increase in the rate of pay per hour that the men might earn the same wages that they earn now. An increase of 2 cents per hour spread over the 1,550,000 car hours of the year 1911, for both motormen and conductors, would amount to $3,300 per year. Such an increase should to a large extent be offset by a reduction in hours and an increase in days off. "When men are required to report for work they should be given work or else paid a minimum amount for the time that the company has required of them. A rule of the company that when a man is called out he should have at least the pay of a com-

PLAIN TALK FROM HULL HOUSE HEAD

Miss Jane Addams.

New York.—Jane Addams, first of American settlement workers, founder and head of Hull House, Chicago, noted author and lecturer, indulged in some very plain talk to the "Men and Women Forward" congress which convened recently in this city. Miss Addams is an authority upon almost every subject that she essays to talk upon in public; hence her address was listened to with great interest. She took as a subject, "The Church and the Social Evil."

"The supreme religious test of our social order," she said, "is the hideous commerce in girls, and the sorry results of that test are registered in the hypocrisy and hardness of heart of the average good citizen toward the so-called fallen woman. May we not claim that in consequence of this brazen attitude, the social evil today remains a hard, unresolved mass in the midst of so-called Christian civilization, until it has come to be called a vice which cannot be eradicated, a sin which cannot be forgiven, a social disease that cannot be cured?"

"The policy of treating the social evil as a matter of contemptuous indifference, Miss Addams declared, had formed the groundwork for political corruption. "The corruption spreads until the brothel, the saloon and the gambling den are the trio literally at the base of the real administration of our cities. Certainly the scoundrel woman has been avenged upon the city which despises her. The men who consider her a legitimate source of revenue, in a thousand ways fleece the decent taxpayers who refuse to acknowledge her existence and she abides through one administration after another to the confusion and frustration of all movements for civic reform."

Expatriated Americans.
London reckons she has 5,000 Americans who prefer Europe to America; how many Englishmen and Irishmen have made money over here and carried it back with them? Twenty thousand Americans live in Paris. At least an equal number are scattered through Italy and Germany.

LITERARY CAMPAIGN LOSER IN OREGON

Jonathan Bourne, Jr.

Jonathan Bourne, Jr., U. S. Senator from Oregon, and chief exponent of the Oregon plan of putting all possible offices, including the presidency, in the direct control of the people, was defeated for renomination in the recent primaries by Ben Selling, a merchant from Portland who has little or no national reputation. Bourne was one of the best known among the insurgent republicans in the upper house, and he felt so sure that the people of his state would renominate him that he did not go to Oregon while the campaign was in progress. He made only a literary campaign that cost very little and continued in Washington during the fight.

NORRIS BEATS BROWN IN THE PRIMARIES

George W. Norris (at the top) and Norris Brown.

George W. Norris, insurgent leader of the House of Representatives, defeated Senator Norris Brown in the recent Republican senatorial primary in Nebraska. Both men are progressive, both are effective speakers and good campaigners. Representative Norris is one of the most radical of the insurgent leaders in the lower house.

LOCOMOTIVE ENGINEERS' REFERENDUM VOTE MAY RESULT IN GREAT TIE-UP OF TRAFFIC

Whether or not all traffic east of Chicago and north of Norfolk, Va., is to be tied up in the greatest strike of the year, is largely in the hands of Grand Chief Stone of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The men are now voting in the referendum but to see for as this vote can be anticipated every indication points to the placing of full authority in the hands of their chief and his advisers. In case arbitration is found necessary to settle the differences, it is probable that the services of Labor Commissioner C. D. Nellis and Martin A. Knapp, of the Interstate Commerce Commission will be required.

DROWNED HERSELF IN TANK OF WATER

William Smith Returned From Business Trip Yesterday Afternoon to Find His Wife Dead.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Relatives, friends and neighbors of Mrs. Minnie Smith were most painfully shocked Monday afternoon, to learn that she had drowned herself in the water supply tank at her home in this city. That the drowning was not accidental was quite evident from the fact that a heavy tailor's goose was suspended from her neck. Mr. Smith went to Oregon on business in the morning coming back on the 2:30 train. When he arrived at the home he found his wife missing and on looking the house over he discovered her body in the tank with the iron fastened to her neck. Although performing her usual duties, Mrs. Smith has been in poor health for some time, and no doubt her tragic act was prompted by a melancholy, nervous breakdown.

Besides her husband she leaves one son and many other relatives who have the sympathy of the entire community. No arrangements have been made for the funeral at this date. Further announcements will doubtless be made later.

Reserve Force of Street Railway Company More Than Equals Walk Out and Little Delay is Caused.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Milwaukee, Wis., April 30.—Street cars are running in Milwaukee today as usual, though leaders of the incident strike which caused temporary delay last night, declared more men would quit today. It is said that fewer than 50 motormen and conductors failed to report to work this morning for regular runs. The strikers are said to consist chiefly of extra men and some who have recently assigned to regular runs. The traction company's reserve force more than offsets the number who deserted their cars.

Atlanta, Ga., April 30.—Georgia's preference for the Democratic presidential nomination will be expressed by the voters tomorrow at a statewide primary to be held solely for that purpose. Later in the month the state convention will meet here to ratify the choice. The contest is between Woodrow Wilson and Oscar W. Underwood, with the odds apparently favoring the New Jersey governor. Factional lines have been drawn into the contest. Wilson is generally supported by the friends of Senator Hoke Smith, while Underwood is favored by the anti-Smith faction, of which Governor Joseph M. Brown and Clark Howell are the leaders.

TARIFF TO EXCLUDE AMERICAN MACHINES

German Automobile Companies Claiming For Higher Tariff on Cars to Shut Out American Trade.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Berlin, April 30.—A number of the most important German automobile constructors have suggested to the government that it should increase the German tariff on motor cars. The step they point out is necessary owing to the competition of American machines which are being imported in increasing number and this competition also has affected the export of German machines to other countries in Europe where they claim American machines are making inroads into the trade.

Suppressing Cough or Sneeze.
Hospital nurses, when assisting at a delicate operation, have their own way of suppressing a cough or a sneeze. The operator's attention must not be distracted for a moment. Coughs and sneezes, too, spread germs on surfaces carefully rendered antiseptic. So every nurse soon learns to press her finger hard on the upper lip, immediately below the nose, when she feels a cough or a sneeze coming on.

The Crime of the Fond and Foolish Mother

If you were told that a mother actually roughs the complexion of her little boy, and then sits and looks at him and exclaims, "Oh, you pretty thing!" you would think it wasn't true, wouldn't you, or else that the mother was mentally incompetent?

Undoubtedly the mother is mentally incompetent, though the world generally doesn't judge her so. But the incident is quite true. She not only roughs and paints and powders the poor boy, but she does many other things equally foolish. She is the wife of a successful business man, and lives an idle life in a fashionable apartment house. And when she is not inflicting torture in various forms on her suffering little son, for he would be a manly little fellow, if he had a chance, she is playing bridge or wandering around in the shops.

It is easy to see what sort of man the little fellow will grow into, unless he has a very energetic guardian angel somewhere. And such a mother would be apt to wear out the most strenuous of guardian angels. For angels are at a disadvantage on this earthly sphere, and that mother is right on the job all the time of spoiling that boy. She won't let him do this, he can't do that. If he gets into any trouble at school, he mustn't stand up for his rights. He must come home and tell her, and she goes to the other boy's mother with a long wall of complaint. She is hurting the boy more criminally and more seriously than if she crippled him physically. And when one sees such things as this being done, it does seem as though those who advocate the rearing of children by the state, were in the right. For the state does interfere when a child is being injured or neglected physically by its parents. But at present, it cannot lift a hand or voice when far more serious damage is being done to mind and character.

And there seems no remedy at present for such things except the fundamental remedy that a man choose a wife who will be a right mother for his children, and a woman choose a man who will be a good father. But this is a matter few, if any, think of until it is too late. With this woman, argument by friends, expostulation on the part of relatives does no good. She willfully goes her way. The husband has long since thrown up his hands at the situation and settled down to doggedly earning the money needed to run the domestic machinery. And the child suffers.

She thinks she loves the child. But in the final count she doesn't love him. She loves herself. She does not consider what is the boy's good. She thinks only of what she herself wants. And so the poor boy is petted, fondled, dressed, and made over into a copy of her own selfish, petty, willful, small self. And the kind of man he will be, and what he will miss of true manhood, through no fault of his own, makes one sad to think upon.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

WHETHER paves the way for tyranny thereby helps to make a tyrant and is, therefore, partially responsible for his creation's tyranny.

The man who fails to take an intelligent interest in government and to do what he can to make a good government; paves the way for bad government, and is partially responsible for the evils which result.

The parent who is ever ready to give in to the whims, and pamper the tastes, and bow to the moods, of the son or daughter of the family thereby helps to make the child the self-centered, exacting tyrant which he is likely to become, and is partially responsible for the tyranny under which the child will ultimately suffer.

"I declare, I don't know what to do with Arleen," writes one of my correspondents. In regard to her sixteen year old daughter, "She grows more thoughtless and self-centered and exacting every day. It really seems as if the harder I try to please her, the more exacting and domineering and dissatisfied she gets." Undoubtedly, my friend. Quite without knowing it, you have put your finger right on the cause of all your trouble. "The harder you try to please your little daughter, the more she will expect of you that you should do nothing on earth but try to please her. The more she expects you to please her, the more domineering she will become and the more dissatisfied she will be with you. Nor is she so very much to blame. It is hardly in human nature to refuse power when power is thrust into one's hands or not to be exacting when some one is ready and eager to fulfill those exacting demands.

It is told of an overworked farmer's wife, with a family consisting of her husband and five sons, that when she collapsed in the kitchen one hot day, and the village nurse was hastily called in, the latter found six little bean-pots sizzling away in the oven. "For the land's sake!" she inquired. "What all those bean-pots for?" "Oh!" gasped the farmer's wife, "You see, father won't have any molasses in his beans and John likes 'em full of molasses; Frank vows he can't eat 'em with molasses, and little Alice—" but the nurse, without waiting to hear what little Alice liked, slammed the door, and rushed to the kitchen. There, it is stated, she at once smashed those six bean-pots, substituted a mammoth pot which she filled with beans and molasses and pork and onions, "allowing" to herself that that family would eat their beans that way or not at all. Needless to say they ate them.

Doubtless those six sons were good-hearted folk and very fond of the little wife and mother. But she had, so long paved the way of tyranny that they could hardly help being tyrants.

There is an infinite number of such mothers in the world, and few such fathers. They mean so well, but they do so much harm, not only to themselves, but also to those for whom all their sacrifices are made!

Are you one of these tyrant makers?

UP-TO-DATE HOUSEKEEPING

Fashions in Refrigerators—Points Where They May Become Insanitary.

By Alice E. Whitaker.

Styles in refrigerators or ice chests have changed greatly in the last the top open the warm air rushing in melts the ice.

This form may be a little inconvenient for placing different holders of food but it is sanitary as the whole inside is exposed to view and can be washed and scalded easily. But so long as there are careless workers there will be drops of milk turned sour, bits of decaying lettuce and fragments of food developing mold in some refrigerator for the very best kind cannot be sanitary at the hands of the sloppy cook.

There is now no need of being inconvenienced by the wrong size of refrigerators for a great variety of forms are made and many are of the apartment house style and being tall take up the minimum of floor space. Prices run from three dollars for the nursery refrigerator to towards one hundred dollars for an entire porcelain and nickel good-sized refrigerator.

One of the sources of danger is the pipe for carrying off waste water. It is generally made to disjoin and at this point there is a little trap which is likely to become clogged and contain the food. It is not uncommon for the careless kitchen worker to neglect this for weeks and the refrigerator is in consequence filled with a disagreeable odor.

This trap should be removed at least twice a week, rinsed in hot soap or soda and water and well scalded. Nothing is better than hot water with a little washing soda dissolved in it for washing the inside.

Avoid buying a refrigerator with any exposed wood in either ice box or food closet because dampness cannot fail to make it insanitary and no sort of washing can make it other wise. The shelves will hold a great deal more if left over are not set away on table dishes but are condensed on small plates and little bowls. This plan saves placing dishes up on shelves thus tending to give their contents or break the china if self. Many a refrigerator would disclose a platter with a bit of steak, a vegetable dish with a spoonful of potato, pudding pans and milk bottles with small contents and two or three plates with but a dab of butter on each.

Care should be taken against putting warm food directly into the refrigerator and it should not be forgotten that any kind of food that is to be kept over night, or a day or a day or two, should be cooled as quickly as possible and by exposure to air. The chicken fricassee, or beef stew for instance must be uncovered and bread keeps with floor flour if cooled rapidly on a rack where the air may blow over it from an open window.

When a cup of hominy grits is left over from breakfast stir in to it one-quarter cup of butter while it is hot. Slowly beat in one cup of milk and set aside to cool. Stir two level teaspoons of baking powder with two and one-half cups of flour and add to the hominy mixture. Beat, add two well beaten eggs and a little salt. This may be baked on a griddle or better yet in a waffle iron.

The Kitchen Cabinet

IN THE development of flavor lies the secret of good cooking, and in the enjoyment of it the art of wholesome eating.—Henry T. Finck.

FOREHANDNESS.

When company is expected or a dressmaking class is about to be declared, and when one pair of hands has all the cooking to do, a little time preparing for the busy or full week will make things very much more comfortable for all concerned.

Prepare a good kettle of stock, and keep on hand for soups and sauces; a pot of beans will help out for several meals. They can be used in salad and soup also.

Prepare a beef loaf or a baked ham, or a boiled tongue. These are always easy to serve and well liked.

Make a good big jar of cookies, a spice cake or a simple fruit cake which will keep.

Cook up a big dish of rice, which can be used in so many good dishes, croquettes, griddle cakes, muffins and desserts.

Cook a dish of dried prunes and peaches, to be used in puddings and as sauce with cake for dessert.

Make the under crust for several pies and keep in a cool place, fill with any desired filling for a quick dessert.

Prepare a jar of salad dressing and a simple salad of lettuce may be quickly served.

Make out a week's menu as a guide, of course. They cannot be followed exactly, as there are always left-overs or other things to modify arrangements.

If the weather is too hot for soup stock to keep, have a few cans of good soup or broth on hand. They will be a wonderful help in time of need.

Orange Sponge Cake.—Beat the yolks of three eggs until light, add a little of a third of a cup of water and one and a half cups of powdered sugar; beat well and add the remainder of the water, the juice and a teaspoonful of grated rind of an orange and a cupful of flour. ## Heart and Home Problems

by MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1). Will you please give me recipes for some simple desserts? (2). There is a pudding made principally of dates and nuts. Can you tell me how to make this?

Mrs. E. T. V.

Do you ever stew figs and serve them with whipped cream? These and other fruits used in similar ways make easy and palatable desserts. Stew the figs for an hour or more over a very slow fire adding water whenever necessary. Then add sugar and stew for about an hour longer until the water has boiled very low and serve with the cream.

Prunes soaked twelve hours and stewed in some way and flavored with lemon juice are also good with whipped cream. Dates soaked a few minutes in warm water, seeded and served in shortbread glasses with whipped cream are another. Stewed peaches and even apples are also good served with whipped cream. Quarter the apples and boil with sugar until transparent. If the sugar is added in the beginning the apples will keep their shape. Then still another called Allen Pudding is made by combining the prunes with the apples, a layer of each, and thickening their juices with corn starch and pouring over separately. This, too, is to be served with whipped cream.

(2). I think you probably refer to date tarts. The following is the recipe:

One cup dates, one cup English walnuts, one-third cup sugar, two eggs, three tablespoonfuls flour, one teaspoon baking powder. Chop dates and nuts. Add sugar, eggs well beaten, flour and baking powder, and milk. Bake from twenty to thirty minutes in moderate oven.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: What will baby boys wear on their heads this summer? My baby is fifteen months old and wears rompers and boy's dresses altogether. I cannot form further on incongruity with them. Is there anything else I can get for him?

Mrs. T. T. R.

During this windy spring weather, bonnets are about the only things a child of that age to wear on his head, but little washable hats of plique or similar material are worn. These are made with time-shooter crowns which draw up and button onto the rim, and can thus be laundered easily.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1). How can I clean a rubber? (2). Kindly give me a recipe for strawberry shortcake. (3). And a recipe for cream puffs.

Mrs. T. T. R.

(1). If gasoline will not clean it, probably the only thing that will prove successful will be to use a dry-cleaning establishment. (2). Strawberry shortcake recipe as follows: Two cups flour, four teaspoonfuls baking powder, one-half teaspoonful salt, one-half cup sugar, three-fourth cup milk, and one-third cup butter. Mix dry ingredients, sift two or three times, work in butter as for pie crust and add milk gradually. Divide in two parts. Roll out each on floured board and bake fifteen minutes in round cake tin. Split and spread with butter. Sweeten strawberries to taste and crush slightly, and put between layers and on top. (3). I have recently printed a recipe for cream puffs, so if you will send me an addressed stamped envelope, I will send it to you direct.

HAVE YOU THE RIGHT TO BE MARRIED?

BY DOROTHY DAVIS

Dear Summer, Chicago: "Hereafter no marriage ceremony will be performed in this church unless the contracting parties bring a certificate of good health."

A step in the right direction. But how about examining yourself to see if you possess another good—good taste.

Chicago restaurant keepers in the business district were indignant at a recent decision of the waitress' union to disregard in future demands for pretty waitresses. They said their patronage increased or decreased according to whether they could employ girls with good looks. This tells one story.

Not long ago O. H. Skinner told me that a young actor who made a hit had a hard time continuing up in his profession because he was so bedazzled with invitations and getting by his women admirers, most of them married women, that he lost his grip on real work. That tells another.

Wrong for men to look to the pretty waitresses? Fathoms for women to court the society of Bohemian inclinations? Perhaps not; but certainly cheap, dirt cheap.

Men and women who scorn wearing brass or chemiselet wear cheaper manners. They ogle in the cars. They stare on the streets. They look and look to see if they can make some one else look again. And they don't stop there.

A girl returning from college for the Christmas vacation was asked by an older woman traveler to make a fourth at which she accepted as she didn't want to seem disagreeable. The two men playing were middle-aged and looked well read.

The older woman began to be frisky. The men followed suit. When they asked names and addresses the uncomfortable girl exclaimed to one: "Why, you must be the father of one of my Toledo friends at school." At that the man's manner changed at once and he accompanied the girl back to her seat and left for the smoker.

Now the only difference between a man and a woman who acts cheaply is that the man usually lays the blame on the woman. "What can you expect of a man when a woman acts so?" is his excuse. Well how could he like his wife to give such an excuse, vice versa, I wonder.

Another way in which people lack in good taste is in their treatment of each other in what they call joking. It usually ends with red eyes or even a fight away from home.

A husband puts on his best burlesque manner and says before others: "Lo, what's the use of me boys you that?" You'd look like a comic valentine.

The wife of saying the lightness of stage actors' remarks, "Oh, they're all alike. After you're married while it might as well be one man as another." Friends wouldn't stand either for a minute.

A love that isn't loyal is a soldier that deserts. And that kind of deserting usually ends where the other deserter does, in a court martial.

Prophetic.

You'll generally find that a prophet takes both sides to different people so no one can be sure to be right with some of them.

WOMEN SHOULD BE PROTECTED

Against So Many Surgical Operations. How Mrs. Bethune and Mrs. Moore Escaped.

Sikeston, Mo.—"For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I cramp and had backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do my own housework, hoe my garden, and milk a cow. I can entertain company and enjoy them. I can visit when I choose, and walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the month. I wish I could talk to every suffering woman and girl."—Mrs. DEAN BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

Murrayville, Ill.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a very bad case of female trouble and it made me a well woman. My health was all broken down, the doctors said I must have an operation, and I was ready to go to the hospital, but I read that I began taking your Compound. I got along so well that I gave up the doctors and was saved from the operation."—Mrs. CHARLES MOORE, R. R. No. 3, Murrayville, Ill.

Next time you make a pie or cake try cutting the shortening into the flour with a knife—if you do not already follow this method.

When you first use Christian's Matchless Flour in making a pie or cake you will be delightfully surprised at the rapidity with which you can cut the shortening into Matchless Flour.

This is due to the fact that the milling of Matchless Flour is rather a digging than a crushing of the wheat berries and as a result you have a finely granulated instead of a dust-like flour.

The winter wheat in Matchless Flour gives you the nutty flavor that you pay an extra price for in so-called "pastry" flours.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

THE BEAR FLAG WAR.

By A. W. MACY.

By the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, signed February 2, 1848, the territory known as California was ceded to the United States by Mexico. Long before that, however, many emigrants from the United States had moved in, and they had become greatly dissatisfied with Mexican rule. In 1846 a small body of them raised an insurrection against the Mexican government. Their banner was a flag bearing the figure of a bear. They seized some government property and proclaimed a republic. Shortly afterward the Mexican war began, and the American flag was raised at Monterey. Thus the Bear Flag War was merged into the greater conflict. It is supposed that Gen. John C. Fremont had a good deal to do in fomenting the dissatisfaction, as he did in nearly all similar movements of the time.

Price of Coffee

Goes Up and Down

"Many make the mistake of ordering their coffee by the price instead of by the brand. Any woman who always pays the same price per pound for coffee cannot expect to get always the same quality."

"To illustrate, we will say that one pays thirty cents a pound for coffee. When the crop is short, who does not get a good coffee as when there is a plentiful crop. When the crop is short, the grocer of necessity must supply a lower grade. It is, therefore, only natural that complaints should result. And the complaint being purely the result of inferior drinking quality."

"There is one coffee that is always the same unvarying good quality. It is the Mex-O-Ja brand, and the price goes up and down with the supply of green coffee."

"Mex-O-Ja is a blend of genuine Sao Paulo and Mexican varieties, and a pound will make forty cups of full rich-flavored flavor."

"Every package contains sixteen ounces, net weight, of coffee, put up in a sanitary bag, with a protective carton bearing broad green and red stripes. Most grocers now sell Mex-O-Ja."

TRAINING CHILDREN TO EAT SLOWLY.

"How to get a nervous child to chew his food" is the problem suggested by a reader. In these days of "nervous" parents, high pressure school work and lack of outdoor exercise, the child that is not nervous is rather the exception. Hurried eating is a result and a cause of "nervousness," and accordingly slow eating is a radical cure for nervousness in combination with exercises and outdoor living, which are more important for any child than rapid advancement in school work. Instead of furnishing the child soft, fresh white bread, mushes and other foods that do not encourage mastication, give dry toast and dry whole wheat bread. When all are seated at the table, if it is customary to "say grace" include a suggestion as to eating calmly and slowly, with thanks to the Giver, or say a few words explaining the importance of chewing the food very fine and mixing it with saliva so that it may turn into good blood and make the eater strong and healthy; but far more benefit will be derived from example, letting every one at the table make prominent the fact that he or she is chewing thoroughly. Require the child to remain at the table always till all have finished. Sitting still a few minutes at the table before beginning to eat, and requiring it to draw several deep breaths, following the example of the others, will help to induce the calm mental attitude and self control that facilitate thorough mastication.

Why Should I Use Cuticura Soap?

"There is nothing the matter with my skin, and I thought Cuticura Soap was only for skin troubles." True, it is for skin troubles, but its great mission is to prevent skin troubles. For more than a generation its delicate emollient and prophylactic properties have rendered it the standard for this purpose, while its extreme purity and refreshing fragrance give to it all the advantages of the best of toilet soaps. It is also invaluable in keeping the hands soft and white, the hair live and glossy, and the scalp free from dandruff and irritation.

While its first cost is a few cents more than that of ordinary toilet soaps, it is prepared with such care and of such materials, that it wears to a wafer, often outlasting several cakes of other soap, and making its use, in practice, most economical. Cuticura Soap is sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, but the truth of these claims may be demonstrated without cost by sending to "Cuticura," Dept. M, Boston, for a liberal sample cake, together with a thirty-two-page book on the skin and hair.

MISS SHOEMAKER TO PLAY LEADING PART

Local Young Lady in Title Role of Beloit College Senior Class Production Wednesday Night.

(Special to the Gazette.)

Beloit, Wis., April 30.—Miss Emma Shoemaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Shoemaker of Janesville will play the leading role in the annual play to be given by the senior class of Beloit college Wednesday night in the Wilson opera house. The play is entitled, "A Rose o' Plymouth Town," one of Puritan times involving to a great degree the story of the "Courtship of Miles Standish," with a good many modern touches. Instead of being courted by John Alden—Miles Standish has already joined the ranks of the Bennecks when the story opens—"Roos Du La Noye," who takes the part of Miles Standish, who is ardently sought after and finally won by Garrett Foster, of a colony adjacent to Plymouth.

Contrary to tradition, the heroine is a Puritan belle. She creates a furor among the young men of the colony and competition rages so keenly that the neighboring colonists are brought into the contest. The cast of characters includes eight prominent members of the senior class. The stage setting and scenery have all been planned and painted by members of the cast, assisted by the manager of the play, W. L. Leaver, and Prof. C. A. Culver. Because of many obligations which will be introduced the play is expected to be one of the most novel ever presented by an outgoing class at Beloit. The popularity of Miss Shoemaker and her ability as a reader have added a good deal of interest to the play.

LOCAL GIRL LEADING LADY IN "DRIFTING"

Miss Mildred Doty to Appear Here Monday Night in Leading Role of Delightful Play.

This is a four-act drama which has proved to be most popular and one which is capable of pleasing the most critical taste. Miss Doty's charming personality is well adapted to the part in which she will appear and her appearance here will be greeted with a great deal of pleasure by all who know her.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES.

CHARITY.

By Howard L. Rann.

Charity is a form of benevolence which unites man in one common brotherhood and softens the sting of poverty with soft coal and channel coal. There are several kinds of charity. One kind begins at home and leaves off in about the same locality, while others cross the ocean and deposit money in Korea that ought to be matched against the laundry bill. Some charity workers steal out at night, laden with kind deeds and pure food products, which they place on the doorstep of an ailing brother and then vanish with such rapidity that their legs twinkle in the gleaming like the firework salute of a pinwheel. Then there is the kind which dispenses charity with the aid of a concert band and a megaphone, thereby making it easy for the left hand to know what the right hand is up to. As it is usually up to the elbows in coupon books and 30 per cent dividends, this kind of charity seldom makes a hit with the recording angel. Charity also consists in refusing to believe the worst about your neighbor when the best doesn't hang any medals on him. One of the finest forms of charity is the kind which begins to talk about purging the front hall when somebody is about to be subjected to a microscopic examination and declared guilty before the evidence is all in. Charity doesn't pass any premature judgments or condemn a man for showing courtesy to a woman whom it is perfectly safe to gossip about because she hasn't any two-tailed rattles in the immediate vicinity. The man who is devoid of charity is about

ADAMS IN DEFENSE OF INCOME TAX ACT AS JUST AND FAIR

Member of State Tax Commission in Address Here Last Night Emphasizes Strong Points of Measure.

T. S. Adams of the state tax commission presented the strong points of the income tax law argument at a meeting of citizens and county assessors at the city hall assembly room last evening. Mr. Adams went into the question with convincing thoroughness and took especial care to make all his points perfectly clear. Mr. Adams took the stand that the personal property tax had been admittedly a failure, that it had also been decidedly unjust, which offered some excuse for the prevalent evasion, and that the income tax act was the best substitute for this form of taxation inasmuch as it sought to tax according to the ability to pay.

In beginning his address, Prof. Adams stated that to understand the income tax law and the reason for its adoption, it was necessary to have clearly in mind the origin of the measure. "The entire explanation for the income tax law," he said, "is found in the search for a substitute for the personal property tax. The tax on personal property, and especially on intangible personal property, has been a failure for the reason that less than five per cent of the stocks and bonds in the state have been taxed."

Prof. Adams described the personal property tax system as one of the most flagrant forms of class legislation. The assessment of real estate on the whole had been fairly equal in the state, with the possible exception of the small home owners' property.

erty in the urban districts. But the personal property tax had always fallen hardest on the poorer classes while wealth tended to evade.

The intricate complexity of assessing a large amount of personal property and the manifest unfairness of taxing in taxes from thirty to sixty per cent of the total income which is derived from stocks and bonds and other forms of personal property, were reasonable excuses for this widespread evasion.

To remedy this situation was the purpose of the income tax law. But a worse evil had to be remedied, according to Mr. Adams. There were many instances in the state where public officials had such unbearable pressure brought to bear upon them from the interests in their community that they were unable to resist and consequently favored these interests with low assessments and in other ways working inequality and injustice. The old tax law upheld such a system and the more rigidly it was enforced the more inequitable it became.

Outlining the elements of the income tax law which was calculated to displace the unjust personal property tax, Prof. Adams dwelt with emphasis on the intent to tax according to the ability to pay. It taxed when the income was high enough, in the prosperous times rather than in the lean years, when a man was successful rather than when unsuccessful. Exemptions were made in order to give an adjustment according to the capacity of the people to pay taxes. Laws of taxation in this direction were the rule throughout the world.

Another element of the law was that it was a local tax. Seventy per cent going to the district where collected, ten to the county and twenty to the state, with state administration. This insured efficiency. It took away the possibility of influence from politicians and business interests. Under supervision of assessors would be secured with the result that the small home owner in the urban center will have the tax on his real estate reduced. He will escape entirely the personal property tax. Farmers also would be benefited somewhat, in about the extent that they had been paying more than their just share of the taxes formerly.

Prof. Adams answered several of the objections, that it was a new tax on real estate and that it was inequitable in its methods. To the first objection he stated that it was not a new tax on real estate but on real estate owners. The tax was not primarily calculated to tax real estate but to tax the high salaried class and the large holders of stocks and bonds.

Admitting that the tax was necessarily inequitable to some extent, Mr. Adams felt sure that the taxpayers would prefer it to the strict enforcement of the old personal property tax system.

In closing his address Prof. Adams searched the field of taxation to see what better remedy for the personal property tax system there might be than the income tax. "It is a question of a choice of evils," he said, "for taxation is not a pleasant task. It is necessary to get the money in some definite way."

The single tax as a possible substitute did not have the vital element of taxing according to ability that the income tax has, and the evils of the old system and injustice it would work should we return to it with right enforcement of its provisions, were too clearly evident to warrant such a move. It was the conclusion, then, that income tax was the correct form of taxation.

"I suffered with a very severe cold, but after taking Foley's Honey and Tar Compound my cold got better, and I also gave it to my daughter with the same good results. ## GIDEONS TO HOLD CONVENTION HERE TWO DAYS IN MAY

Wisconsin State Convention to Be Held Here May 11 and 12—Excellent Program Planned.

Janesville has been chosen as the meeting place for the eleventh annual state convention of the Gideons, May 11 and 12. This is especially appropriate as Janesville is the home of the movement, two of the four men instrumental in founding it, J. H. Nicholson and J. C. Kline, having been residents of this city. Since its organization only a few years ago the membership has increased to four or five thousand despite the fact that only commercial travelers who are church members can be taken in, and the work accomplished by them is rapidly increasing in its effectiveness and scope.

In pursuance of its principles of taking advantage of every chance to Christianize the commercial travelers throughout the country, and help advance the Kingdom of God wherever possible, the Gideons have in the last year or so been actively engaged in placing bibles in the rooms of hotels. This is only one of many activities on their part and since the Dominion of Canada has been included in its territory even greater plans are being made.

BULKLEY INTRODUCES BILL FOR NEW COINS

Robert J. Bulkley.

Congressman R. J. Bulkley, of Cleveland, O., has introduced a bill in the lower house providing for the coinage of half-cent pieces. Frugal housewives will doubtless watch the bill on its way through Congress with more than ordinary interest. The congressman has also introduced a bill which provides for the resumption of the coinage of three-cent pieces, and it has been favorably reported by the house committee on coinage. Senator Patterson introduced the three-cent bill in the Senate and will urge quick action by the committee.

The proposed coin would be very useful to Cleveland street car patrons, as the universal fare in that city is now three cents.

HYPNOTIC COMPANY CAUSED MUCH FUN

Comical Actions of "Subjects While in Hypnotic State Kept Audience at Myers Theatre Laughing.

In an exhibition of hypnotism and mental telepathy at the Myers theatre last evening, the Macks, who with their company opened an engagement in this city, gave a demonstration that kept the audience laughing most of the time at the antics of the "subjects." The demonstration was conducted on scientific lines, allaying much of the superstition and ideas of occultism connected with the name yet illustrated the wondrous power of hypnotic powers of hypnotism. In a few words, at the opening of the entertainment Mr. Mack set forth the psychological and scientific explanations of the hypnotic state and of mental telepathy, and awoke Mr. Edwards, the young man who had slept for fifty hours, the sleep having been produced by mental suggestion. Then with eight or ten young men from the audience who volunteered to act as "subjects," Mr. and Mrs. Mack illustrated the powers of the operators over persons in the hypnotic state. The "subjects" were hypnotized, and performed all sorts of comical actions, chasing imaginary butterflies, playing instruments in an imaginary band, and doing war dances when it was suggested to them that they were Indians. As "buck and wing" and Spanish dances, the "subjects" also provided considerable entertainment for the audience and the surprise of the subjects when aroused from the hypnotic state caused a lot of fun.

The features of the entertainment was the demonstration of mental telepathy by Mr. Mack and Mrs. Mack. The lady was put in a light somnambulistic state, and at the mental suggestion of Mr. Mack, performed acts for which people in the audience had made written requests to Mr. Mack. Tonight the Macks will give a further demonstration of hypnotism, placing their subjects in the cataleptic state.
